 - c) Those running for election for the NAFCU Board who are not incumbents shall be informed of the process for the selection of offices as previously set forth. The Chair shall then inquire of any newly elected directors of their desire to seek office or submit a nomination, and provide expeditious notification of any such to the other directors. Newly elected directors will be requested to respond by the close of business two days hence, but in no event less than the close of business two working days before the June Board meeting, of their desire, if any, to seek office or submit a nomination. Following such notification(s) the Chair shall provide expeditious notification to the other directors of newly elected director's desire to seek office or submission of a nomination.
- 2) Reorganization Meeting - After the election of the Board of Directors has been certified, the prospective members of the new Board will hold a reorganization meeting prior to the Annual Business Meeting and elect their officers. This meeting will be chaired by the highest ranking officer ("designated chair") who will remain as a director on the new Board; the order of precedence is Chair, Vice Chair, Treasurer, and Secretary. The reorganization meeting will be closed to everyone except the prospective members of the new Board. The highest ranking officer who will remain as a director on the new Board will appoint two members of the prospective new Board who are not candidates for office and who have not submitted a nomination to serve as tellers and attest to the tally of all votes.  - d.) Election - Each director will again be provided with a blank piece of paper. Each director will cast his/her vote for one of the two candidates. The teller will collect the votes, tally them, and report the results to the Board. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes shall be elected to that officer position. This process will be repeated for each of the 4 board officer positions. At the request of any director, the designated chair may, at his or her discretion, appoint another teller to verify the vote
- 4) Special Circumstances (Tie Votes)
 - a.) Nominations - In the event that there is a tie involving three or more candidates a "run off" vote will be taken as prescribed in Paragraph 3) b.) above. The two directors receiving the most votes in the "run off" will then stand for election to that office. In the event of a tie in the "run off" process, each candidate will be allowed a brief opportunity to address the Board and then the "run off" procedure will be repeated. If there is a tie for "second place," the same "run off" process will be used. The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes in the "run off" process will stand for election with the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes in "first place".

b.) Election - In the event of a tie for an election, each candidate will be allowed an opportunity to briefly address the Board. The election process will then be repeated.
