Re: Support Regulatory Relief for Credit Unions

Dear Speaker Boehner and Leader Pelosi:

On behalf of the National Association of Federal Credit Unions (NAFCU), the only trade association exclusively representing the federal interests of our nation's federally-insured credit unions, I write today in support of the regulatory relief efforts found in H.R. 427, the Regulations from the Executive in Need of Scrutiny (REINS) Act of 2015. As you know, in the wake of the Dodd-Frank Act, the amount of federal regulation credit unions face is at an all-time high. Regulatory relief for credit unions is desperately needed and would enhance their ability to react to market conditions and meet the demands of their 100 million members.

The REINS Act would make an important step toward regulatory relief by requiring any executive branch regulation with an economic impact in excess of $100 million as scored by the Office of Management and Budget to come before Congress for an up-or-down vote before it could be enacted. It also allows greater Congressional scrutiny of other rules. NAFCU believes putting this legislative process into place could help ensure additional accountability from the Administration and Congress regardless of which political party is in the majority.

The impact of the growing regulatory burden on credit unions is evident as the number of credit unions continues to decline. Since the second quarter of 2010, we have lost 1,250 federally-insured credit unions – over 17% of the industry. The fact is that many smaller institutions simply cannot keep up with the new regulatory tide and have merged out of business or been taken over. It is with this in mind that NAFCU believes drastic actions to bring regulatory relief to credit unions are needed.

As part of our call for credit union regulatory relief, NAFCU has released a “Five Point Plan for Credit Union Regulatory Relief” and a list of “Top Ten Regulations to Eliminate or Amend,” both of which are included with this letter. We appreciate the House’s focus on regulatory relief and urge you to continue your work in this area.

Thank you for your leadership in bringing the REINS Act to the House floor and for considering additional ways to mitigate the excessive regulatory environment credit unions face. Should you have any questions or require any additional information please contact me or Jillian Pevo, NAFCU's Director of Legislative Affairs, at 703-842-2836 or jpevo@nafcu.org.

Sincerely,

Learn How NAFCU's Five-Point Plan Will Bring Regulatory Relief to Credit Unions

In February 2013, NAFCU was the first trade association to call on Congress to provide comprehensive broad-based regulatory relief for credit unions. As part of this effort, NAFCU sent Congress a five-point plan for regulatory relief in order to significantly enhance credit unions' ability to create jobs, help the middle class, and boost our nation's struggling economy. Built on a solid framework of recommendations that provide regulatory relief, we revised the five-point plan in February 2015 to the following:

1. Capital Reforms for Credit Unions

Modernize capital standards for credit unions in order to reflect the realities of the 21st century financial marketplace:

- › Authorize a true risk-based capital system for credit unions that more accurately reflects a credit union's risk profile.
- › Give the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) authority to allow supplemental capital accounts for credit unions that meet certain standards.
- › Authorize the NCUA to further establish special capital requirements for newly chartered federal credit unions that recognize the unique nature and challenges of starting a new credit union. (Given that very few new credit unions have been chartered over the past decade, and in order to encourage the chartering of new credit unions.)

2. Field of Membership Improvements for Credit Unions

Make improvements to the Federal Credit Union Act to help enhance the federal credit union charter:

- › Improve the field of membership (FOM) restrictions that credit unions face, including expanding the criteria for defining "urban" and "rural."
- › Allow voluntary mergers involving multiple common bond credit unions.
- › Allow credit unions that convert to community charters to retain their current select employee groups (SEGs).
- › Allow all credit unions, regardless of charter type, to add underserved areas to their field of membership.
- › Authorize the NCUA to grant parity to a federal credit union on a broader state rule, if such a shift would allow them to better serve their members and continue to protect the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund.

3. Reduce Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) Burdens on Credit Unions

Credit unions did not cause the financial crisis, but have been victims in the new tide of regulations aimed at those institutions who did, with over 1,000 institutions disappearing since the passage of the Dodd-Frank Act, primarily due to the new regulatory burdens.

- › Exempt all credit unions from CFPB rulemaking and examination authority, since NCUA once again has been given authority to write all rules for credit unions, tailoring new proposals to meet the special nature of the credit union industry.
- › Authorize the NCUA to delay the implementation of a CFPB rule that applies to credit unions, if complying with the proposed timeline would create an undue hardship.

- › Authorize the NCUA to modify a CFPB rule for credit unions, provided that the objectives of the CFPB rule continue to be met.
- › Require the NCUA and the CFPB to conduct a look-back cost-benefit analysis on all new rules after three years. The regulators should be required to revisit and modify any rules for which the cost of complying was underestimated by 20% or more from the original estimate at the time of issuance.

4. Operational Improvements for Credit Unions

Credit unions stand willing and ready to assist in our nation's economic recovery. Our industry's ability to do so, however, is severely inhibited by antiquated legislative restrictions.

- › Modify the arbitrary and outdated credit union member business lending (MBL) cap to help create American jobs. This can be done by raising the current 12.25% limit to 27.5% for credit unions that meet certain criteria or by raising the outdated "definition" of a MBL from last century's $50,000 to a new 21st century standard of $250,000, with indexing for inflation to prevent future erosion. MBLs made to veterans, non-profit religious organizations, businesses in "underserved areas," or small businesses with fewer than 20 employees should be given special exemptions for the arbitrary cap.
- › Eliminate statutory requirements to mail redundant and unnecessary privacy notices on an annual basis, provided that the credit union's policy has not changed and additional sharing of information with outside entities has not been undertaken since the distribution of the previous notice.
- › Give the NCUA greater flexibility in how it handles credit union lending, such as the ability to establish longer maturities for certain loans.
- › Enact new examination fairness provisions to help ensure timeliness, clear guidance and an independent appeal process free of examiner retaliation.

5. 21st Century Data Security Standards

Credit unions are being adversely impacted by ongoing cyber-attacks against the United States and continued data breaches at numerous merchants. The cost of dealing with these issues hinders the ability of credit unions to serve their members. Congress needs to enact new 21st century data security standards that include:

- › Paying costs associated with a data breach by those entities that were breached.
- › Establishing national standards for the safekeeping of all financial information.
- › Requiring merchants to disclose their data security policies to their customers.
- › Requiring the timely disclosure of entities that have suffered a data breach.
- › Establishing enforcement standards for provisions prohibiting merchants from retaining financial data.
- › Requiring the timely notification of the account servicer if an account has been compromised by a data breach.
- › Requiring breached entities to prove a "lack-of-fault" if they have suffered from a data breach.

NAFCU's Top Ten Regulations to Eliminate or Amend

- 1. Improve the process for credit unions seeking changes to their field of membership. Improvements should include: (1) enabling credit unions to strengthen their associational membership charter; (2) streamlining the process for converting from one charter type to another; (3) remove or greatly increase the current population limits for serving members in a metropolitan area (1 million) and contiguous political jurisdictions (500,000); and, (4) making it easier for all credit unions to add “underserved” areas within their field of membership.
- 2. Provide more meaningful exemptions for small institutions. The number of credit unions continues to decline, as the compliance requirements in a post Dodd-Frank environment have grown to a tipping point where it is hard for many smaller institutions to survive. While NAFCU and our member credit unions take safety and soundness extremely seriously, we encourage the financial regulators to expand many of the compliance thresholds, including raising (1) the 100-remittance transfers allowance threshold; (2) the 500-origination limit for the small creditor exemption; and (3) the 5,000-servicing limit for the small servicer exemption.
- 3. Expand credit union investment authority to allow credit unions to purchase mortgage servicing rights (MSRs). NAFCU strongly pushed for the expansion of credit unions’ investment authority to include the ability to engage in limited derivatives activities and to securitize certain assets. NAFCU will continue to seek asset securitization for qualified credit unions. In addition, NAFCU will push NCUA to remove from its list of prohibited investment activities the ability to purchase MSRs. NAFCU believes a federally-insured credit union, at the very least, should not be prohibited from purchasing MSRs from other credit unions.
- 4. Increase the number of transfers allowed to be made per month from savings accounts. The restriction on “convenience transfers” under Regulation D presents an ongoing concern for NAFCU and its members. Members are often unable to understand and remember the arbitrary limits on the number and types of transfers the regulations permit them to make from their savings account. Members expect to have the ability to transfer their funds with ease to and from particular accounts, and the regulation’s six-transfer limitation from savings accounts creates an undue burden for both credit unions and their members. This six-transfer limitation should be updated and increased to at least nine transfers per month, while still making a distinction between savings and transaction accounts.
- 5. Seek added flexibility for credit unions that offer member business loans. These improvements could include: (1) securing credit union-friendly changes to the waiver process; (2) increasing the general minimum loan-to-value ratio from 80% to 85%; (3) securing removal of the 5 year relationship requirement; and (4) defining credit unions that have had a successful MBL program in place for at least five years as having a “history of primarily making MBLs.”
- 6. Update the requirement to disclose account numbers to protect the privacy of members. Credit unions are currently required to list a member’s full account number on every periodic statement sent to the member for their share accounts pursuant to Regulation E. These requirements need to be updated to allow the credit union to truncate account numbers on periodic statements in order to protect the privacy of the member and to reduce the risks of fraud and identity theft.

- 7. Update advertising requirements for loan products and share accounts. The regulatory requirements for advertisement of credit unions' loan products and share accounts have not kept pace with technological changes in the current market place. The requirements of Regulation Z and Truth in Savings should be updated to reflect these changes and advances in practical advertisements and the disbursement of information, while maintaining the integrity and accuracy of the information that the member truly needs to know from the advertisement. Further, NCUA's regulations should be updated to clarify that the official sign is not required to be displayed on (1) mobile applications, (2) social media, and (3) virtual tellers.
- 8. Seek improvements to the Central Liquidity Facility. Reduce the amount of time that it takes for a credit union to secure access to liquidity. In addition, work with NCUA to secure changes the Central Liquidity Facility by removing the subscription requirement for membership and permanently removing the borrowing cap.
- 9. Obtain flexibility for federal credit unions to determine their choice of law. Federal credit unions should be allowed the opportunity to choose the jurisdiction under which they operate without surrendering their federal charter. To this end, NAFCU will work with NCUA to establish a waiver process under which a federal credit union, taking into account safety and soundness considerations, would choose the state law under which it wants one or more of its operations.
- 10. Update, simplify and make improvements to regulations governing check processing and funds availability. These enhancements should include: changing outdated references (i.e., references to non-local checks); changes that are required by statute and are already effective and incorrectly stated in the regulation; and changes that enable credit unions to address fraud.
